The Wanamaker Store.

The Costumes, the Waists, the Wraps

THE whole store is a Spring Show, but the second floor, with its Paris things, takes precedence just now. We are intensely gratified by the kind things you say and write of this showing. But don't think you have seen it all. You must come every day to do that. The exhibit is changing all the time. If you saw last week's there's a new one for you to see now.

Among other things, some new silk waists have come in ;--more than a hundred of them. Beautiful productions, with "Corne" and "Poret" in every delicate line and every exquisite stitch. $23 to $60.

Imported Vigoureux doubtless Suitings at 3712c. know them. They are typically good "tailor-made" suitings, and im-

The goods are black, all silk, embroidered Grenadines,-and richer goods are not. Such fabrics as only Frenchmen can make,-quiet, effective, stylish, exquisite. And generally high-priced; we never saw these sell regularly for less than $3, and $3.50 is the average. With them, some silk-and-wool Crepons, also black and also beautiful. There are only one and two dress patterns to each style,-exclusiveness could not be pushed further.

Two Dollars a Yard.

The Wraps with said much The Costumes about the Capes and Wraps in the Costume showing, but they required very little pointing out. They drew the attention like so many metaphorical magnets. If there is anything handsomer than a handsome gown, it is the handsome wrap that goes with it.

There is more of the practical interest in them, too, because we sell great numbers of them. The costumes are for show first, and sale next. These wraps and capes and jackets from Sara Mayer and Corne and Gerson and Hubert & Riquieur are quite as salable as they are beautiful. $8 to $88.

Special tables are given this morning to one of the best offers in fancy china that we have had the pleasure of offering in a long time. And that is saying

There are 200 dozens of decorated plates, in 18 styles. All are French china of the best makes, and the decoration is of the highest class. Dinner, breakfast and tea sizes, together with soup plates, and a beautiful table this assorted richness makes. But the deepest attraction of all is in the price, $1.50 Each, for plates that could sell very readily for prices up to $30 a dozen. Another lot at $1 each that are

Silk News of Two Sorts

One part of this news concerns the last-comers in French silks. These are the very last of the latest, -the freshest of the fresh, -the newest of the new. Paris itself has not more than been introduced to them this morning. They are just off the looms and came straight to us as fast as a steamer could twirl her propellers.

We always top off our silk assortments with these last novelties, and wait to do so as long as we dare, in order to be sure that what we get at the last are really the last and best. Here they are, then—the final efforts of the leading fabric designers of the world.

The other half is a bargain story, concerning a number of thousand yards of Spring and Summer Silks, that have had their prices clipped severely. There'll be many a projected cotton dress turned into a silk one on the fifth floor. The regular stock under the magic of such influences as these:-
